THINGS I NEVER KNEW 'TIL NOW ABOUT THE NAVY

BY WALTER WINCHELL

(By special permission)

That no matter what you think about the superior officer who barks a command at you . . . you will never get into trouble if you remember the most important word in any tar's dictionary, to-wit: "Obey" . . . and the "proverb's ev- ery officer or enlisted man has on the tip of his fangs: "Growl you may, but go you must" . . . The Navy never calls newcomers "rook- ies" . . .They are "Boots" . . . The Navy has jilted its long famous re- cruiting poster slogan, "Join the Navy and See the World" . . .It is now: "Join the Navy and Serve Your Country" . . . The reason they call a battleship "she": Because she carries a lot of paint to keep up appearances, she's always has a crowd of sailors around her and she makes a helluva lotta noise in an argument" . . . Secretary of the Navy Knox (he is 67) is the first Sec'y to inspect a submarine while it was submerged.

Our sailors like their women tall and willowy. They are not fussy whether they are blondes, brunettes or redheads. . . .according to a re- cent poll. . . . American sailors' pay is the highest in the world. Some have heard that Brazilian officers are paid taller wages than any navy's. The Navy could books are bound in lead covers so that in event of capture by an enemy the books can be tossed overboard and sunk . . . Sailors call Naval Reserve officers "metalmen" be- cause "they have silver in their hair, gold on their sleeves and lead in their pants"! (Who, me!

There are sixteen America In- dians in the U. S. Navy . . . The reason the Navy is reluctant about accepting draftees is that it takes more than a year, sometimes two, to train landlubbers for naval war- fare . . . . A recruit is given an outfit free. It costs the Navy $118

After that outfit wears out the sailor has to pay. The legend that sailors pay from five to eight cents per pack for cigies is true only when their ship is at the seas . . . Midshipmen at Annapolis are not permitted to chew gum . . . And not only that, but get this . . . When they enter the Naval Academy they are handed a certified ver- sion of Emily Post's book of etta- quet and they have to study it . . . What! No dunking? Fevvvensakes!

The over-age destroyers we gave England had the modern bunks in- stead of the old-fashioned hammocks. But the British put back the ham- mocks because the bar's made them seasick . . . Tip to fiction-spin- ning scatter writers Salvore, sea- man who blackjacks will like you more if you call them any- thing but gobs . . . Just as police officers prefer being called officers in- stead of cops . . . California, New York and Texas produce more men to the Navy than the rest of the nation.

The North Carolina's bugler (Paul Linke) was the drummer in Jan Savitt's orchestra . . . . Doctors on board are always called surgeons. . . The church colors are the only colors that may be flown over the national ensign . . . . Ilea Brody has a corking piece about life aboard the North Carolina, in Esquire. But he says the officers get no dessert . . . He meant to say "at the noon meal," apparently, for the peach shortcake on the N. C. is grand . . . That 19-gun salvo every gun on the ship) cost Uncle Samson a mere $23,750 . . . . The great battleship, like a real champion. . . . didn't blink longer than half-a-second and then proceeded on its graceful way . . . . Captain O. M. Hustvedt and his Executive Officer, Commander A. G. Shepard, are exactly the kind of American naval officers you always imagined . . . . dignified and distin- guished gentlemen.

Contrary to popular belief a sail or does not have to salute an of- ficer on board ship whenever they meet. An officer must be saulted only the first time a seaman sees him during the day. Only the cap- tain must be saluted at all times. . . Spectators at the Naval Academy's inter-collegiate boxing matches must attend in formal attire. The pur- pose is to cut down on the demand for tickets . . . Martha Keye of the screen recently got word from the U. S. Submarine Narwhal (in Hawaii) that they had named her "the girl with whom we'd most like to be submerged."

In the "Navy Blues" flicker Ann Sheridan, in a sword dance, used a sword that belonged to Admiral Far- ragut. It was loaned to Ann by her stand-in, Minna Farragut, a great- niece of the naval hero . . . . inciden- tally, after the War Between the States, Farragut was ordered to Eur- ope, in the steam frigate, Franklin, and his wife went along. At Con- stantinople they attended a ball- room for a short cruise in the Black Sea. Mrs. Farragut sat herself down in the extreme bow, blocking the pi- lot's vision. He asked the Admiral's aide to persuade Mrs. Admiral to move her chair . . . . she refused to budge . . . . so the pilot called two husky seamen and had them remove her forcibly . . . . later, when Far- ragut heard about it, he scolded his wife with: "Now, Judy, how often have I told you that at sea you are not the boss!"

PRAYER AND THANKSGIVING

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 6:5-15; Ephe- sians 5:20; 1 Thessalonians 5:16-18.

GOLDEN TEXT—Pray without ceasing. In every thing give thanks.—1 Thessalonians 5:17, 18.

Being one with Christ, the Chris- tian finds prayer to be as natural as breathing. As he walks with the Master he talks with Him, praises Him, thanks Him, makes his peti- tions and his needs known to Him. We feel, however, like Christ's dis- ciples who asked Him to teach them to pray (Luke 11:1).

I. Instruction in Prayer

Approaching the subject from the negative viewpoint, Jesus told them

1. How Not to Pray (Matt. 6:5, 7). Prayer, which is the highest privi- lege of the Christian, is beset by some deadly dangers.

a. No hypocritical performance (v. 5). Some who wished to be seen in prayer used to be in a conspicuous place at the Jewish hours of prayer (nine, twelve, and three o'clock). There, before a crowd, they put on a prayer "show" for the benefit of the observing audi- ence. Such a prayer is designed for the ears of men and never reaches God.

b. No vain repetition (v. 7). We do not need to repeat our petitions. God knows our need (v. 8). When repetition is the outpouring of an earnest and urgent heart it means much, but that is different from just repeating phrases.

2. How to Pray (Matt. 6:6, 8, 14, 15; Eph. 5:20; 1 Thess. 5:16-18). Public prayer is sometimes both necessary and proper, but usually for prayer alone with God.

a. In secret (v. 6). When we pray we should be free from dis- tracting influences or personalities. We are talking to God and should give ourselves entirely over to communion with Him.

b. In faith (vv. 6, 8). God knows what we need even though He waits to be inquired of concerning it. He will answer prayer so as to honor His name in our lives and in our testimony before others.

c. With forgiveness (vv. 14, 15). No one who comes before God with an unforgiving spirit toward his brother is ready to ask God for the forgiveness which he himself so greatly needs.

d. With thanksgiving (Eph. 5:20). To give thanks is altogether fitting as we come to God in prayer. Note that we are to be thankful "always" and "for all things," not just when some special blessing or favor has come to us.

e. Without ceasing (I Thess. 5:16- 18). Union with Christ enables us to pray without ceasing, even as He ever prays for us. This does not call for the constant utterance of words, but the moment by moment prayer of a heart and life lifted to Him. With such praying comes con- stant rejoicing (v. 16).

II. A Model of Prayer (Matt. 6:9- 13).

The prayer which our Lord taught His disciples was intended to be a model rather than a form of prayer. We may repeat it, however, if we put into it the prayer of our hearts.

1. God and His Glory (vv. 9, 10). Recognizing Him as our Father to whom we may and must come for all things, we in all humility ascribe all honor to Him. Then we pray that His kingdom may come, not only in the future (and we look forward to it!), but now, in our own hearts. The true believer wants the will of God done in his own life and throughout the earth, even as it is perfectly done in heaven.

This prayer begins at the proper point. A right relationship with God brings true blessing on earth. The one who prays is now ready to pre- sent to God

2. Man and His Needs (vv. 11-13). Daily bread is mentioned first, for without it life could not continue. This is the constant need of man, and his great struggle. God is able to supply that problem, and only He is able. Unless He gives "seed to the sower and bread to the eater" (Isa. 55:10) we are gone.

But man has even greater spiritu- al needs. Sin needs forgiveness, weakness needs strength, the power of the enemy of our souls calls for deliverance. Again God is able and ready to hear man's prayer.

One of the sad things about the study of prayer is that we are all so ready to talk about it, discuss it, even preach about it, and then do so little praying. Knowing how to pray, and admiring a model of prayer, will profit us nothing, un- less we pray.

Good Work Never Fails

So, then, Elijah's life had been no failure after all. Seven thousand at least in Israel had been braced and encouraged by his example, and silently blessed him, perhaps, for the courage which they felt. In God's world, for those who are in earnest there is no failure. No work truly done, no word earnestly spoken, no sacrifice freely made, was ever made in vain.—F. W. Rob- ertson.

Important Notice To Savings Depositors

We believe that many of our customers, especially those who have personal investment problems, are well aware of the scarcity and pre- vailing low return on prime investments. This fact coupled with in- creased costs of operations has considerably reduced the income of most banks.

A good bank must operate profitably, and in order to do so, we like so many others, (as well as those immediately surrounding us) have reached a point where it is deemed necessary to reduce the interest rate paid by us on interest bearing deposits to 2%. Many banks are now paying even less. This step is simply one of busi ess expediency for a continuance of safe, sound banking, and in no sense an indica- tion of penalizing thrift. The safe return of your investment, rather than the return ON it, is the primary consideration in effecting this re- duction.

Money is a commodity, our "stock in trade", just as your farm pro- ducts or the goods on the merchants shelves, and its value is determin- ed by the same well known principle of "supply and demand." Due to business conditions the supply exceeds the demand, this means large amounts of idle money, which in the light of our particular case means that we can not safely and profitably use your funds at a great- er price to you than 2%.

It is our earnest desire that you will accept this condition without disturbing our pleasant business relationships, and that you will continue your sound principles and habits of thrift, even though present con- ditions do not permit as high return as you would desire.

This reduction from 2 1-2 per cent to 2 per cent will be effective from December 15, 1941, and in your consideration of the matter please remember that we of-fer you 2 per cent and safety. Your deposit is fully insured up to $5,000.00 by the F. D. I. C. We appre- ciate your patronage and hope to serve you in every way consistent with sound banking practice. Should the interest trend in the future able in turn to pay a higher rate on the money which you have en- trusted to us.
